Well 1 has been used for household, yard, and garden use and some stock use since 1900 when it was originally dug. The water is presently withdrawn by means of a 6" steel casing and electric pump. The depth of the water table fluctuates between 1 and 12 feet. Log formations are not available.

Well 2 has been used for stock water continuously since 1955. The means of withdrawing the water from the ground is through a 6" steel casing and electric pump with stock water heater to insure year round use. The well was completed in 1955. No log is available. The depth of the water table is approx. 40 ft.

Spring 1 runs year round and has been used since early 1900's continuously for stock water. Means of withdrawing the water is by natural flow. The depth of the water table is approximately 2½ feet.

Note: Although actual amount of water is unknown, this is a sufficiently flowing stock water spring by natural flow and is absolutely necessary for year around watering.
