Date Started: 1900
Date Completed: 1900

Describe means of obtaining groundwater without a well "as by sub-irrigation and other natural processes". Include depth to water when applicable. Natural free-flowing spring; developed in 1900, used continuously since for livestock watering. It was dug-out, formed into a reservoir and a protective fence built around it to keep livestock out. Approximately 150 feet of pipe to carry water down hill to supply tank for livestock use.

Quantity of water developed and used with explanation of method used to measure or estimate such amount. If use is intermittent estimate approximate lengths of periods of use. By measurement it has been found to flow at the rate of 1 gal per minute continuously or 2160 gal every 24 hours.

This spring has been in continuous use for livestock since 1900 and was used until 1948 was also used for domestic purposes.
