Describe means of obtaining groundwater without a well and by sub-irrigation and other natural processes: Include facts about water when applicable. Both a & b are springs from which water flows by sub-irrigation and other natural processes: (a) is based in a pipe line a trough. (b) flows from a steep incline into the scales. Water flows from both springs to the surface without any known depth having been ascertained.

Quantity of water developed and used with explanation of method used to measure or estimate such amount. If use is intermittent, estimate approximate lengths of periods of use. Both springs (a) and (b) are used for stock water all year and both have been used continuously since appropriated. Spring (b) is quite a large spring and flows over ten times as much as spring (a).

have appropriated groundwater according to the Montana laws in effect prior to January 1, 1962, as follows:

2. The beneficial use on which the claim is based — for household purposes and water for livestock.

3. Date or approximate date of earliest beneficial use; and how continuous the use has been. First in 1905 and the use has been continuous. Water rights on other lands secured in 1907, 1911 and 1914.

4. The amount of groundwater claimed (in miner's inches or gallons per minute). 1400 miner's inches from several springs, reservoirs and the wells.

5. If used for irrigation, give the acreage and description of the lands to which water has been applied and name of the owner thereof. Lands originally owned by Henry M. Jensen, now owned by Rose Jensen. No irrigation use.

6. The means of withdrawing such water from the ground and the location of each well or other means of withdrawal — by three wells and natural springs for watering livestock.

7. The date of commencement and completion of the construction of the well, wells, or other works for withdrawal of groundwater. 1910. First well was constructed near buildings. One with shovel and cribbed up with rock. Two more wells made the same way at intervals as needed.

8. The depth of water table. Is unknown, as this is a Natural Spring, appears shallow and is estimated at about 12 feet.

9. So far as it may be available, the type, size and depth of each well or the general specifications of any other works for the withdrawal of groundwater. The wells are dug down approximately 20 feet, boxed off and cribbed up with rock. Wells about 7 feet in diameter.

10. The estimated amount of groundwater withdrawn each year. Difficult to estimate, but there has been sufficient water for 250 head of cattle.

11. The log of formations encountered in the drilling of each well if available. Gravel down about 8 feet, then sand and rock the rest of the distance. No lawn sprinkler is used. Land used for grazing only. Plat attached showing location of springs, wells and reservoirs in Sections 10, 11, 14, 16, 22, 23, 27.

12. Such other information of a similar nature as may be useful in carrying out the policy of this act, including reference to book and page of any county record.
