Address of Contractor: None

Date Started: Aug. 1929
Date Completed: Aug. 1929

Describe means of obtaining groundwater without a well "as by sub-irrigation and other natural processes". Include depth of water when applicable. A 100 ft. trench was dug 4 ft. deep and 5" perforated pipe was buried to pick up excess water. Pipe terminated in 10 ft. x 12 ft. storage storage cistern from which a 1" pipe runs to a 6 ft.
stock tank approximately 150 feet in a lower elevation than the cistern. Stock tank has float which controls amount of water flowing into stock tank.

Quantity of water developed and used: 36,000 used to measure or estimate such amount. If use is intermittent estimate approximate lengths of periods of use.

Flow of water into storage cistern varies from 3 to 5 gals. per minute depending on rainfall. Flow measured at it flows from pipes into cistern. Used approximately 8 months each year, Spring overflows when water is not used for livestock.

Date Started: 1912   Date Completed: 1912

Describe means of obtaining groundwater without a well “as by sub-irrigation and other natural processes”. Include depth to water when applicable. A 10"x10"x10" cistern was constructed with the top and 3 sides of cistern of concrete. The bottom and one side consisted of fine sand, under the floor of spring water to enter. A 1" pipe carries the water from the cistern for approx. 1000 feet to a lower elevation to furnish water for household and stock at the ranch headquarters.

Quantity of water developed and used, with explanation of method used to measure or estimate such amount. Use is intermittent. Estimate approximate lengths of periods of use. Spring flow at rate of approximately 5 gals. per minute. It is measured by the length of time required to fill cistern of known capacity. Water is used continuously during the year.
